A. C. Swango, candidate for congress, on the Populist ticket, pulled off after the Campton convention, and now claims that his friends took him off in the interest of our Jo.

Now, that the Teuth Congressional battle has been fought, and the smoke, dust and other volatile substance have cleared away, we can see victory perched on the banner of our Jo M. Kendall. Would it not be interesting to enquire who raised the most dust? Who did the shooting and how many times did they shoot. This we can not answer, but with the many good shots Tuesday, Hon. Rodney Haggard and our young friend Sam Salyer broke the record. Now for the largest Democratic victory for Kendall and Beckner the Teuth has ever given.

A BEAUTIFUL TRIBUTE

Paid The Memory of Our Dear Congressman by James H. Swango.

Mr. Chairmen: In support of the resolution adopted and in behalf of the people of Wolfe county, I rise to pay tribute, as our beginning the great journey of life, to our friend and fellow-citizen who has just ended it. While in the active discharge of his duties the hand of disease was laid upon his manly form, but day by day glad tidings of continued convalescence was brought to us, when, like the lightning's bolt from a cloudless sky, the brief, appalling message came, Marcus Lisle is dead. It smote our hearts like ice. We stood with bowed heads in the presence of great sorrow, and today we beg to consecrate this hour to the commemoration of him, who has just closed his eyes to the scenes of this world, to be opened amid the grand realities of a blissful eternity. Loving hands have gently laid him away in his last and long resting place, loving eyes have looked for the last time through the mist of blinding tears upon his still, cold face, and the sound of the funeral dirge has died away. But how vain are these formalities to the country's hero who gave his life for his country's cause. Naught on earth will disturb the sleep that wrapped the mantle of death about his mouldering form.

Would that I could relate the story of his life. Born of poor, but honorable parentage, he rose rapidly in his profession and in the bright morning of manhood he gained the entire confidence of his fellow-men wherever he was known. His fathers pitched their tents in Kentucky's lonely forests, when it was indeed the dark and bloody ground. They wrested mountain fastnesses and blue-grass fields from savage foes, founded a religion that feared nothing save God and established a civilization that never closed a door to a stranger. Their sacred dust is mingled with our soil, made doubly sacred with their heart's best blood.

Such was the ancestry of our deceased and honorable servant.

Fellow-citizens, let us bow our heads in gratitude to God that such a patriot dwelt among us. Let our mountain sides resound with his praise. Let our glorious manhood, our beautiful and virtuous womanhood join in full chorus and sing songs to him who, like the man of Galilee, gave his life for his fellow-man. As a humble citizen of this commonwealth let me dedicate to his memory this epitaph, so beautifully inscribed by another, and let it also be enshrined in the hearts of every true American present, that it may stimulate his honesty, his integrity, his fidelity to the great principles of American citizenship.

In remembrance of Marcus C. Lisle: Born September 23, 1862, died July 7th, 1894. A learned and faithful lawyer, a peaceful and public spirited citizen, an incorruptible patriot, a sagacious statesman and over all God's noblest handiwork—an honest man, he was an ornament to the commonwealth and an honor to his race.

Peace be to his ashes and God bless his memory.

STATE SUSPENDS PAYMENT.

Treasury Doors Closed Friday—Deficit of $277,577.

State Treasurer Hale last week, figuratively speaking, time locked the state's money chest for opening on October 1, when two fifths of the total amount of the school money due the teachers, or over $850,000, will have to be paid. The collections of the revenue due on April 1, did not meet the expectations of the treasurer and he could see no way out of the difficulty of meeting the immediate demands on the treasurer and providing for the accumulation of the school money other than the entire suspension of the payment of all claims.

There is a deficit of more than $627,181 in the general expenditure fund, out of which all the current expenses of the government are paid, and an actual deficit in the treasury as a whole, when the sums credited to sinking and school funds are taken into account, of more than $277,577.

The next payment of revenue collections by the sheriffs will be made on September 1, but for the reason that the last legislature extended the date of a final settlement with the sheriffs one month, it is feared the collections will not be as large as at the same period last year. The courts will then follow in September, and by their orders on the sheriffs for the money in their hands to pay jurors, still further diminish the chances of accumulating a fund enough to meet the demands.

Whether the treasurer then will likewise resume payments of all claims against the state on October 1 is a matter to be determined hereafter by the promptness of the taxpayers and the diligence of the sheriffs in collecting and reporting the taxes collected by them within the next two months.

MAGOFFIN COUNTY.

When Formed, Her Population, Wealth, Party Vote, Etc.

This county was formed in 1860, during the administration of Gov. Berial Magoffin, for whom it was named. It was the one hundred and eighth county formed in the state, and was made up from parts of Morgan, Floyd, and Johnson. The soil along Licking river is moderately fertile. The hill land produces from fifteen to twenty-five bushels (three to five barrels) of corn to the acre. There is a great deal of poplar timber in the county, which is floated down Licking river to market, each winter and spring, in considerable quantities, whenever there is sufficient water. There is also a great deal of oak, beech, and other heavy hard-wood timber, none of which, however, is being shipped. There is, too, some walnut timber, but most of the choice walnut trees have been shipped. Some cannon coal is shipped from Magoffin, on poplar rafts, to the lower markets. Magoffin has, as yet, no railroads, but the "Kentucky Midland," from Frankfort, via Paris, Owsingville, West Liberty, Prosser, and Pikeville, to the state line, at the "Breaks of Sandy," will pass through the county via Salyersville, the county-seat, and it is believed will be completed at an early day, it being one of the numerous railways recently projected to aid in the development of the mineral and timber wealth of Eastern Kentucky. Already the forty-mile section from Frankfort to Paris is under contract, and in rapid process of construction, while the means to build the remaining sections, at least to a self-sustaining point, are practically in hand, or, at any rate, in sight. Our county roads are not in good condition. We have no road laws, except the general law of the commonwealth, and the general character of our county roads is not so good as it might be, and certainly ought to be. There are no turnpike roads in the county. Licking river, heading in the extreme southwestern corner of the county, runs through the whole length of the county to the center of the northern boundary line, but is navigable only for rafts and flat-boats. There are no streams with available water-power for machinery. The character of the timber of Magoffin is that of the mountains generally. The oak, beech, and poplar predominate in quantity among the timber available for merchantable purposes. The principal agricultural products, of which a surplus is produced for market, are wheat and corn. The grasses best adapted to the soil of our county, and which are considered most useful and profitable, are timothy, red clover, herds' grass, and orchard grass, and are the four species of grasses mostly sown. Timothy is sown for hay, while herds' grass and orchard grass are sown for pasturing. Clover is sown for both pasture and hay, as well as for fertilizing. There has been no material change for the better in agricultural methods. The soil in the uplands is deteriorating in fertility because no attempt is made to revive it by the considerate sowing of grasses after an exhausting crop of corn or tobacco. There has been no immigration to Magoffin county in the last few years. There has been no marked increase in the population of the county in the last two years. Several steam saw-mills and grist-mills have recently been put in operation in the county, but we have no manufacturing establishments of any kind. One-half of the original forest of the county is still standing, but no provision has been made to check the waste of timber logs. They are frequently cut and then left in Licking river till they are too rotten for market. The farmers are showing more interest in securing better field and garden seeds than in former years.

D. D. SULLIVAN.

Salyersville is the county-seat. The county has a population of 9,196. It is situated in the Tenth congressional, Seventh appellate, Twenty-third judicial, and Thirty-fourth senatorial districts. In the late congressional election it cast 654 votes for the Democratic candidate and 846 for the Republican.

Put Out in Just Ten Seconds.

Our citizens to the number of two or three hundred gathered on the burnt district here, on last Monday afternoon at two o'clock, to witness the exhibition made by the Cincinnati Tia and Japan Fire Extinguisher Co. The test was given under the personal supervision of Mr. Herman B. Wells, president of the company, of Cincinnati, and Mr. W. V. Snyder, the local agent, of Georgetown, Ohio, and was satisfactory in every respect, clearly demonstrating the Stemple Extinguisher to be one of the best methods yet devised or invented for the controlling of fire.

A structure of pine boards was built, and after being thoroughly saturated with coal-oil, a match was applied. The extinguisher was then turned on and the fire put out in about ten seconds. All who witnessed the test were thoroughly satisfied that the Stemple will do all and more than is claimed for it. The headquarters of the company are 8 E. Cor. Seymour and Canal Sts., Cincinnati—Winchester (Ohio) Herald.

SPENCER COOPER, Hazel Green, Ky., Agent for Wolfe and Morgan counties.

A Pal Inconspicuous.

At the meeting of labor organizations in Chicago Sunday night and Monday morning, resolutions were passed demanding that President Cleveland withdraw the United States troops from the city.

If the labor organizations propose that this shall be a peaceable strike; if the men who are working trains, burning cars and stoking railroad engines, are, as Debs declares, not strikers, but toughs and bums, why is this demand made by the labor organizations for the withdrawal of the troops whose sole object is to prevent these rowdies from depredation?

The federal troops are simply charged with the enforcement of the laws of the United States. No one who does not attempt to violate these laws will be interfered with in any way by the troops. If the men who are engineering this strike are opposed, as they claim, to all lawlessness, they would join with other classes of order-loving citizens in welcoming the blue-coats to Chicago, instead of excitedly calling for their withdrawal.

The truth is, the United States regulars have been, within the last few days, all that stood between Chicago and anarchy. The city police is a farce, and is the laughing-stock of those familiar with its conduct since the strike began. The state militia was not called out until late, and now that it has been called out it has acted so far in a manner scarcely more creditable than the police force. If it were not for the men under Gen. Miles, Chicago to-day would be at the mercy of the rioters.

The whole case, so far as the strikers and their sympathizers are concerned, is this: If the strikers are not breaking the laws of the land, if they are taking no part in the turbulent mobs, they will not be injured in the least by the bullets or bayonets of the federal troops. Furthermore, if they deprecate lawlessness, as if they allege they are in no wise responsible for the violence that has been done and is threatened, and if the real culprits are hoodlums disconnected with the strikers, acting either of their own volition or at the instigation of railroads, then the best friends of the strikers are the troops which can put a stop to such disturbances and quell the rioters.

The resolutions and the strikers' proclaimed desire for a law-abiding strike are, to say the least, fatally inconsistent.—Courier-Journal.

Last June Dick Crawford brought his twelve months old child, suffering from infantile diarrhea, to me. It had been weaned at four months old and being sickly everything ran through it like water through a sieve. I gave it the usual treatment in such cases but without benefit. The child kept growing thinner until it weighed but little more than when born, or perhaps ten pounds. I then started the father to giving it Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Before one bottle of the 25 cent size had been used, a marked improvement was seen and its continued use cured the child. Its weakness and puffy constitution disappeared and its father and I believe the child's life was saved by this remedy. J. T. Marlow, M. D., Tamarac, Ill. For sale by John M. Ross.

The strike troubles in Chicago have about terminated.

ELECTROPOISE!

For Babies as Well as Old Folks.

I am glad to say that the Electropoise has cured me of rheumatism and illness, the result of typhoid fever, as well as eczema. Have used it in the family from mother-in-law 73 years old down to the baby, used it on the baby while teething and it worked like a charm. For throat trouble we have never found anything to equal it. Several of my neighbors have them and are all well pleased. I can not say too much in praise of the Electropoise.

Mrs. F. M. GALLAGHER, Verona, Ky. Brain Congestion and Vertigo Cured With the Electropoise.

Sirs: Last July I was taken with vertigo, a congestion of the smaller blood vessels of the brain (hyperemia). I could not study; everything I ate disagreed with me; at last I ate no solid food, but even soups and liquid food did not agree with me; I was induced to try the "Electropoise." In one night's time it had relieved the brain congestion and vertigo. I began the next day to study; I ate from that time what I pleased, and since then I have been a comparatively well man.

REV. GEO. H. MEANS, Covington, Ky. Practical as Well as Theoretical.

I am much pleased with my experience with the Electropoise, and believe it in advance of any known remedy in theory for the restoration of the normal condition of the system, and its effects in the cure of disease has proved its efficacy practically and theoretically.

G. T. CENTER

Defines His Position on the Turnpike Question.

I learn that it is being circulated all over this county that I am contemplating, if elected county judge, on having a tax levied on this county for the purpose of building a turnpike from Torrent to Hazel Green. This false statement has been gotten up and caused to be circulated by tricksters and figureheads that are not satisfied with the way things are going, and in order to excite and prejudice the minds of the oppressed tax payers of this county against me. While I am satisfied that there are not many who would believe that I would do anything that would be detrimental to the interest of the public, and while I am aware of the fact that a large number of our citizens are not posted as to the law on this subject, I think it proper and right that I should take this opportunity to explain it.

I here refer you to the acts of 1894, page 63, chapter 43, beginning at the second section, which reads as follows: "If as many as 25 per cent. of the qualified voters of any county shall sign and deliver to the fiscal court of such county a petition requesting the subject of taxation for the purpose mentioned in this act it shall be submitted to the voters of the county at the next regular county or state election to be held therein, thereupon the judge of said court shall order an election for this purpose, and if it be found that a majority of voters voting are in favor of levying said tax it shall be so ordered by said court," etc.

So you will see that the whole matter is in the hands of the tax payers. It begins with them and ends with them, and the county judge has nothing to do with it more than any other citizen, except to see that the people's will is carried out, and in case they want to take stock in the turnpike that it is properly done and that their interest is properly cared for. I wish to say in this connection that I am highly in favor of a turnpike from Torrent to Hazel Green, and all other improvements that are a benefit to our county. I am in favor of this turnpike being built by an incorporated company and paid for by the stockholders. And when made in this way it will be a great advantage to our country. It will make our farms worth more and will give us a better market for everything we have to sell. It will give employment for our working men and will enable us to get everything we have to buy cheaper. It would entice new life and energy in our citizens and tend to elevate and lift us up.

As to the propriety of the county taking stock in the turnpike in order to induce others to take stock, that is a matter altogether left to the voters. The law is so fixed that the county can not take more than $800 in stock to the mile of turnpike, and there can not be collected more than 10 cents on the $100 worth of taxable property in any one year for this purpose. The total amount of taxable property in our county is about $1,000,000, and we have about 1,800 tax payers, some of them non-residents. The highest average amount that could be collected from each tax payer for any one year for this purpose would be about 60 cents. I make these statements and explanations that the tax payers may be posted on this subject, and so they may intelligently see just what there is in it.

I have heard that it has been said that if I was elected county judge I would be in favor of paying the county officers high salaries. This is another false alarm. I am in favor of paying them a reasonable compensation for their services and no more. I wish to say to those that have been circulating these false reports that I have enough perplexities of my own without being made a camel to bear for others the loads which they had as well carry themselves. Men do not like to anchor to quicksand nor to build on unstable. The permanent is what the world should seek. I would suggest for your own good and satisfaction that you begin now to tell the truth and constantly do so until you have formed a habit of so doing. Then you can tell it easily. A liar can never be at ease in the company of those he has deceived. He will have to keep his memory constantly on the stretch, lest the stories he tells will not harmonize, as in this case.

G. T. CENTER.

Cumpton, Ky., July 17.

JOHN SPANIARD NICKELL.

His Autobiography of Adventure and Sport in Field and Forest.

I was born on the 10th day of October, 1832, on my father's farm, two miles south of Hazel Green, on Gillmore creek, near its confluence with Red river.

My father was among the early settlers of Eastern Kentucky, and in his early day there was a vast region of nearly uninhabited country extending from the settlements of Virginia to the more inhabited parts of the interior of this state.

This region of country of which I speak was nearly all embraced in what was then Floyd county, which covered nearly all the mountain lands of Eastern Kentucky, and out of which fifteen counties have since been formed.

This territory was then so sparsely populated that wild animals roamed at large, likely more free and untrammelled than in the earlier days of the primitive aboriginal inhabitants. Deer, bear and

Raccoons, opossums and mink were as abundant as squirrels and rabbits are at this time. Otters were not so common nor as easily caught. Furs and peltries of every kind were then in good demand at fair prices, so hunting was not only pleasant and enjoyable but profitable as well. We had experienced raccoon dogs which were as indispensable as any other dogs. The coon and possum was always caught after night, and afforded equal sport to any other class while it lasted. Neither of these animals were swift runners and would be forced to climb a tree after a short pursuit. The coon was an invincible fighter, and few dogs in a single-handed contest was their equal. I have caught as many as six 'coons out of the hollow of one tree. After the tree was cut down and we found where they were hunted we would cut in a hole and let one out at a time, and then the fun commenced. As soon as a coon was liberated the attack was at once made by the eager waiting dogs. Then a fearful wild turkeys was the principal game sought for by the hunters of those days, though wolves, panthers, wild cats, catamounts, otters, beavers and various other smaller animals were abundant. It was nothing more than natural that men in times like these should turn their attention to such inviting fields of amusement and profit as the mountain wilds of Eastern Kentucky then afforded, and my father, either from inclination or contracted habit, became one of the distinguished pioneer hunters of his day and time. It would be surprising and interesting, if I had space, to narrate the many thrilling and hairbreath escapes and adventures I have heard him relate that he has had with wounded deer and bear, and attacks from panthers, vicious catamounts and wild cats. But let it be remembered that like Nimrod, of old, he had distinguished himself as a famous hunter before his death, which occurred in 1858. I am among the youngest of thirteen children, and I can well remember when he would have as high as twelve frozen deer hung up in his smokehouse at one time, which he had killed during one snow storm, and there they would have to remain until the weather moderated and until they "thawed out" so they could be dressed.

During my boyhood days I was variously engaged in working on the farm, attending select school, hunting and trapping. My first smattering of an education was obtained at select schools from inferior teachers. Until the free school system was inaugurated I had acquired but little learning, and failing to take advantage of the free schools as I should have done, my education is now quite limited.

I had acquired, if not inherited, an insatiable thirst and fondness for all the sports of the chase with gun and dogs. Besides our regular trained deer dogs, we had a good train of swift fox hounds, which were equal if not superior to any of the highly prized hounds of today. Nothing has ever been more animating to me than to hear the music of this pack of hounds in full chase and to watch the sly, cunning maneuvers of the fox they were pursuing. All the instrumental music that was ever invented by the use of man could not produce in me such soul-cheering and hilarious emotions as I have experienced in one of these chases.

and bloody contest would take place, which was as interesting and exciting to us as gladiatorial combats between wild beasts were to the uncivilized nations of ancient times.

The mink and otter could seldom be caught except by trapping, as their habitation was about the large water courses. The mink was generally an easy prey, but the only means of capturing an otter would be to find out his "slide," or play ground. Then a skillful trapper would generally get one out of the number that attended their rendezvous.

During the time I was so industriously engaged hunting and trapping for small game I would occasionally go with my father on a deer hunt, but I proved a signal failure as a deer hunter in my first effort. I did not understand their nature nor habits nor how to take advantage of them. I once in a while killed one, which was more in good luck than good management, while my father would shoot them down as though he exercised some magic influence over them. As time passed on a great many changes were all the time taking place. The country from natural growth was fast filling up, beside large emigrations from Virginia and other southern states added still more largely to the then rapid increase of the native population, and it was seemingly but an incredibly short time until our passing through the country could see beautiful and well improved farms teeming with every variety of stock, with substantial farm houses, churches and school houses. All presenting every appearance of religion and civilization, where but a few years previous was the haunts of the deer, bear, wolf, panther, wild cat, raccoon and wild turkey. The smaller game that had so long engaged my attention was fast becoming extinct and trapping and hunting for it was no longer either pleasant or profitable. The deer, too, had left these parts but were to be found almost innumerable in droves and herds on the headwaters of Red river, in the Frozen mountains and along the large streams flowing into the North fork of the Kentucky river. So I determined to try my luck once more at deer hunting, and after making all the necessary arrangements for a few days of camp life, I started alone on my journey, my only retinue being my horse and faithful deer dog and gun. This was about the last days of April, 1852.

We this week surrender our editorial space to G. T. Center, candidate for county judge, that he may explain his position on the turnpike question, which you will find interesting.

Richmond Dellusk returned home Monday evening from Long Branch, having dismissed his school for three weeks on account of the prevalence of whooping cough in that neighborhood.

Do you want the best roof? Do you want the best floor? If you do, bring your roof and when to Maytown and you will get the best. Mill and machines running every day.

Mr. Hord, who has in thirteen acres of tobacco, reports it as doing finely and thinks there will be a big crop from his planting. He topped one piece on Monday, which is unusually early. White burley is the variety Mr. Hord grows, and he thinks all he raises will command 10 to 15 cents per pound.

The Hazel Green Fair Association has put its track in first-class condition, the stable is the best in the country, and Ray Moss, who trained here last year, has been engaged to superintend the training and stable. All who intend to have horses trained, should see Mr. Moss at once, and take advantage of his experience in the matter.

A horse kicked H. S. Shafer, of the Froenyer House, Middleburg, N. Y., on the knee, which laid him up in bed and caused the knee joint to become stiff. A friend recommended him to use Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which he did, and in two days was able to be around. Mr. Shafer has recommended it to many others and says it is excellent for any kind of a bruise or sprain. This same remedy is also famous for its cures of rheumatism. For sale by John M. Rose.

A Transgressor's Ways are Hard.

Wesley Osborn, who was arrested in this county by Deputy Sheriff John Cox about ten days ago, is having a hard time since Mr. Cox delivered him to the Lewis county authorities. A dispatch from Vanceburg on the 13th inst., says: "Late last night a telegram was received at the jail that a mob was on its way from Collegeville to take the murderer of young Hiram Adams, Wesley Osborn, from jail and hang him. The marshal and three deputies took Osborn from jail into the woods, and guarded him through the night. Osborn's courage failed him at the report, and he cried frantically to be saved. The people are determined in the neighborhood of the murder."

Nothing Strange.

Intelligent people, who realize the important part the blood holds in keeping the body in a normal condition, find nothing strange in the number of diseases that Hood's Sarsaparilla is able to cure. So many troubles result from impure blood that the best way to treat them is through the blood, and it is far better to use only harmless vegetable compounds than to dose to excess with quinine, calomel and other drugs. By treating the blood with Hood's Sarsaparilla, scrofula, salt rheum and what are commonly called "humors," dyspepsia, catarrh, rheumatism, neuralgia, consumption and other troubles that originate in impurities of the blood or impaired circulation, can all be cured.

Elvin Wilson, of Missouri, son of Mrs. Louisa Wilson, and a brother of W. H. Wilson of Daysboro, and James Howard Wilson, of Mt. Sterling, arrived here Tuesday night, accompanied by his brother Jim Howard and cousin, Kiser Wilson, of Montgomery county. His visit was a surprise to his mother and his many friends here, who had not seen him in eighteen years, and his step father, John Wilson, said he felt very much like killing the fatted calf in honor of the occasion. Mr. Wilson will remain here for several days, perhaps weeks.

W. B. Nelson, who is in the drug business at Kinneville, Mo., has so much confidence in Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy that he warrants every bottle and offers to refund the money to any customer who is not satisfied after using it. Mr. Nelson takes no risk in doing this because the remedy is a certain cure for the diseases for which it is intended and he knows it. For sale by John M. Rose.

Do not fail to read the advertisement of the State College of Kentucky, which appears in this issue. Several young men and young women throughout this mountain section have availed of the many advantages offered at this institution, and in consequence now hold positions of honor and profit.

A Grand Feature.

Of Hood's Sarsaparilla is that while it purifies the blood and sends it coursing through the veins full of richness and health, it also imparts new life and vigor to every function of the body. Hence the expression so often heard: "Hood's Sarsaparilla made a new person of me." It overcomes that tired feeling so common now.

Hood's Pills are purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, always reliable and beneficial.

In the athletic sports at Louisville last week J. Morton Swango, of Hazel Green, won the pole vaulting contest in eight feet eight inches and a half. But to show that that was not his best performance he vaulted nine feet easily.

The strife for schools in Wolfe seems to be about ended, as many are reported to begin on the 23d inst. There appears to be a greater interest manifested in regard to the improvement of school buildings as well as to improved methods of education, but it is due in most part to the compulsory measure resorted to in the late fall.

The Duke of Red River Valley has upon his premises a pond that contains a living wonder—a trap that never fails to get its prey, as was exhibited the other day by its ready skill in seizing a crow by the foot and dragging it under water. As the crows night to get a drink, they are instantly seized by the jaws of this trap, a nineteenth century prodigy. Any one desiring eyes, can have them at fifty cents a dozen.

For 13 years I have been a great sufferer from dyspepsia and heart trouble."

Almost everything I ate would distress me. I tried different treatments and medicines but failed to realize relief. Two years ago a friend prevailed upon me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. The first bottle I used helped me, and continuing taking it, it did me so much good that my friends thought I was improving. I have received such great benefit from it that

DEATH OF M. C. LISLE.

Appropriate Resolutions Adopted by the Kentucky Delegation.

The death of Congressman Marcus C. Lisle was unexpected, as he had been in a precarious condition for some weeks. It can be said to his credit that he never gave up until forced to do so by tired nature. Mr. Lisle was one of the most popular members of the house, and had he lived, there is no doubt but that he would have made his mark in the legislation of the country, as he possessed a peculiar fitness for the position to which his people elected him.

As Gov. McCreary received the despatch from the deceased congressman's brother, announcing the death, he felt it a duty to inform the members of the delegation and to call a meeting for the purpose of taking appropriate action. This was done without delay. Gov. McCreary was elected as chairman, and instructed to prepare suitable resolutions to present to the house.

While the Kentucky members were thus engaged, the house was proceeding to non-concur in the senate amendments and to agree to the conference asked for by the senate. It took nearly two hours to do this. When this had been done, the governor arose and addressed the chair. He said:

"Mr. Speaker, it is my sad duty to announce to the house of representatives the death of Hon. Marcus C. Lisle, late a representative in congress from the state of Kentucky. He died early this morning at his home, in Winchester, Ky. He was born September 23, 1862, in Clark county, Kentucky. Though young in years, he had become very prominent as lawyer, legislator and business man.

In the year 1890 he was elected county judge of the county in which he was born and reared. In 1892 he was elected a representative in congress, and was, therefore, serving his first term at the time of his death. He was a true friend, a pure patriot and an accomplished gentleman, and he was loved and respected by all who knew him. In all the positions of honor and trust held by him he was conspicuous for his ability, integrity and fidelity to duty. At this time I will not indulge in any extended remarks on the life, character and public services of our deceased colleague and friend, but in the future I will ask the house of representatives to set apart a day for the commemoration of his virtues and public services and for appropriate action in regard to his death. I now ask the adoption of those resolutions which I send to the desk."

Resolved, That the members of the house of representatives have heard with deep regret and profound sorrow of the death of the Hon. Marcus C. Lisle, late representative from the state of Kentucky.

Resolved, That a committee of seven members of the house be appointed by the speaker to act with such senators as may be selected to attend the funeral of the deceased, and that the sergeant-at-arms of the house shall take proper action for superintending the funeral and for attending the remains of the deceased at the place of burial, and the necessary expense incurred by the execution of this order shall be paid out of the contingent fund of the house.

Resolved, That the clerk be directed to communicate to the senate a copy of these resolutions.

Resolved, That as a further mark of respect the house do now adjourn. The resolutions were unanimously agreed to. Before announcing the result of the vote the speaker appointed the following committee in pursuance of the resolutions: Messrs. McCreary, Berry, Taylor, Paynter, of Kentucky; Draper, Lucas and Martin; of Indiana. Mr. Pence was appointed in the place of Mr. Martin, but owing to some house engagements could not serve.

The vice president appointed the following committee on the part of the senate to attend the funeral of Congressman Lisle: Messrs. Blackburn, Lindsay, Palmer, Squire and Danboise. The funeral party will leave tomorrow afternoon in a special car over the Chesapeake and Ohio. They are due in Winchester at 10:30 Monday morning, at which time the funeral will take place.

The members of the Kentucky delegation held a meeting, at which Mr. McCreary presided, and adopted the following:

"It having been announced that the Hon. Marcus C. Lisle, of Kentucky, had this day departed this life, a meeting of his colleagues was held in the capitol, and the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That the members of the Kentucky delegation join with the family and the constituents of the Hon. Marcus C. Lisle in mourning his untimely death, and desire to express their regard for him as a man, and their respect for him as a representative of the people."

Resolved, That in the death of the Hon. M. C. Lisle there is taken from the labors of business to the rewards of eternity a true man; a faithful public servant, one whose future was full of promise; one who had in a short life of but thirty-one years won the respect and confidence of the people among whom he lived; had attained the highest position within the gift of his district and commended the admiration of his colleagues in the American congress by his faithful, zealous and intelligent discharge of his representative duties.

Resolved, That a copy of those resolutions be furnished the family of the deceased.—Courier-Journal, July 8.

Guess For $1,000.
The Weekly Courier-Journal has announced another of its popular guessing contests, taking the temperature at Louisville during the month of August as the basis. One thousand dollars in cash will be given free as presents to the new or old renewing subscribers who guess the hottest day, at Louisville, during August, and give the closest guess to the highest temperature the weather bureau thermometer will reach on that day. The subscription price of the Weekly Courier-Journal is $1 a year. Each guess must be accompanied by one yearly subscription. No newspaper published in the United States has been so liberal to its subscribers, or has offered such liberal prizes to secure new subscribers as the Courier-Journal. During the past 18 months it has given away in presents, absolutely free, $17,490 in money, not to mention such premium articles as sewing machines, watches, guns, etc. This in spite of the business depression, that is felt as much more in newspaper offices than in any other business. The Weekly Courier-Journal has just announced the lucky guessers in its May rainfall contest. There were 222 of those guessers, distributed over the states of Alabama, Arkansas, Kentucky, Texas, Tennessee, Mississippi, Indiana, Virginia, Missouri, Louisiana, Illinois, Iowa, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Nebraska, Indian Territory, Michigan, South Carolina, South Dakota, West Virginia, New York, California, Florida, Washington and Oklahoma. No better indicator of the circulation of the Weekly Courier-Journal could be had than this list. Sample copies of the paper, with full details and blanks, may be had by sending a request on a postal card. Address Weekly Courier-Journal, Louisville, Ky. Contest closes July 31.
